Doing Good Each Day

In 1997, at the inception of PowerSkills Training & Development, a simple yet profound decision was made.

Do GOOD each day.

The Founder and President of PowerSkills, Bob Schout, was inspired by a simple question asked of him by one of his teachers. One evening, in a class, the teacher asked, “Have you done good today?” Bob raised his hand affirmatively, assuming that the teacher meant that ‘doing good’ meant that Bob and the other students performed well as leaders, accomplished their task lists, and were efficient and effective. That is not what the teacher meant by his question. The teacher followed up with another question, “How many of you, because of how you showed up and what you focused upon, brought about more good in the world today?” That was a completely different question, one that took hold in Bob’s heart, expanded in meaning, and became the PowerSkills purpose. He never stopped asking himself that question.

When PowerSkills began in 1997, Bob committed its purpose to Doing Good in the world.

This is the story of our ongoing commitment to doing good around the world.

In the beginning

PowerSkills began its international service by volunteering to support three initiatives that were just starting in the late 1990s.

- NASW – Illinois International Exchange Network in cooperation with the Chicago Sister Cities Program. Bob was a founding member of the International Exchange Network, organizing the first professional development Social Work exchange programs between Chicago – Hamburg DE, Chicago – Birmingham UK, Chicago – Durban SA. Bob was soon invited by a German government ministry to speak at various universities and deliver a presentation on the topic of Corporate-Community Volunteerism at the Bundestag in Berlin.
- Sighisoara, Romania – Social Work Volunteerism in cooperation with Olivet-Nazarene University. Bob escorted a group of Social Work student interns to Sighisoara Romania. While there, he provided training to teachers on Addressing Behavior Disruptions Instead of Labeling Children as Mentally Ill, Understanding the Power of Mentoring Programs, and Supporting Student Leadership Programs.
- Cuernavaca, Mexico – AIDS Volunteerism in cooperation with the Spanish Language School in Cuernavaca, Mexico. While beginning his early Spanish language studies in Mexico, Bob was introduced to an all-volunteer AIDS service group that distributed free food to all people waiting for hospital services throughout the night, on the streets surrounding hospitals. He helped distribute food and consult with the group to enhance their AIDS education brochures that they were developing with donated supplies.

These experiences were followed soon by the message of Joe Foley, the teacher who asked Bob, “Did you do good today?” Together, they seeded Bob’s consciousness with a commitment to do good and a firm belief that it was possible to do good in big and small ways in the U.S. and around the world each day. Service to others has been the foundational principle of PowerSkills ever since that time and spurred our motto's creation.

Bob Schout, President

Purpose before profits and mission before money.

Today we have developed transformative methods, models, and practices.

We have two models of service.

1. Provision of in-country seminars, project consultation, and coaching services, as well as virtual training webinars from the U.S.

We provide free-of-charge, 3-4 days of seminars and coaching services in-country to selected organizations each year. If selected, an organization must guarantee that 20 or more people will attend all of the seminars in-country. The organization gets to choose the seminar topics. The organization must locate a suitable location for the classes and coaching services and obtain all necessary permissions from local or national authorities. The organization must also advise PowerSkills about local culture, lodging, laws, and help organize the students attending the seminars. PowerSkills pays for our team's travel and transportation expenses, reproducing all student materials and all supplies used in-country.

2. Coordination of multi-year leadership and entrepreneurial development projects with challenge grant components.

We work with a country sponsor in a multi-phase partnership. We provide free-of-charge, in-country seminars, classes, project planning advice, and monthly webinars and virtual coaching support using WhatsApp, Skype or Fb Messenger and Zoom for 2-years. If participants fully complete their 2-year commitment (e.g., attending all events and completing all Leadership or Entrepreneurial assignments), they receive a Challenge Grant in several hundred $USD. The sponsor organization(s) in-country assist with all in-country logistics (e.g., participant recruitment, selection, check-ins during the year, seminar logistics, advice for PowerSkills travel in-country, etc.). The sponsor organization's benefit is that the PowerSkills program can be marketed and leveraged as a valuable incentive to its members. The PowerSkills program can also be highlighted in reports to funders and supporters of the organization.
